```
SqlConnection sqlConn = new SqlConnection(); sqlConn.ConnectionString = "Data Source = FURKAN\\SQLEXPRESS; Initial Catalog = sirket; Integrated Security = True"; SqlConnection
                                                                               conn string
                                                               sql command
                                   SqlDataAdaptor
                                                                                 adaptor.Fill(ds)
                                                             sql connection
                                                                              adaptor.Fill(ds,t_name)
          Namespace
                                                                                                                      DataBase
        SQL Client
                                                       DataSet
                                                                                  ds.Tables[0]
                                                                                 ds.Tables[t_name]
                                                                                                     DatagridView
                                    SqlDataReader
                                                                  sqldr.Read()
                                                           sql command
                                      SqlCommand
                                                                              command.ExecuteNonQuery()
                                                          sql connection
                                                                             insert into : ExecuteNonQuery delete : ExecuteNonQuery update : ExecuteNonQuery
```

select count(*) ... : ExecuteScalar select * ... : ExecuteReader